

Inert Prohibited Items Kit – TSK8500

Accurate: Density, X-Ray and WTMD, Z_{eff}

Technology: Backscatter, Computed Tomography, Single and Multiple X-Ray Generator Systems, mmWave

DSA is a DHS/TSA-accepted supplier.

The Inert Prohibited Items Kit was designed in partnership with a leading U.S. cruise company. Each item was selected from their prohibited items list to ensure their security staff could properly screen for concealed narcotics, weapons, and ammunition. Each concealed device was replicated from examples found during passenger screening. Several devices can conceal either inert powder drugs, pills, or marijuana simulants. There are no inert explosives in this kit. This may (country-dependent) decrease some of the transportation requirements when moving this kit from port to port. Each simulant is visually correct and engineered to have the same density and effective atomic number (Z_{eff}) as the real threat. The pistol training aids are not considered firearms in the U.S. but should be treated with the same respect as real guns and may be subject to country-specific import requirements. Each cutting edge and point has been blunted to ensure items are safe for training.
